THE POWER OF INNOVATION

The 500 FLY revolutionized the segment by introducing never before seen features like the transformable bow, rotating cockpit sofa and, most notably, the Beach Mode. It was quickly recognized by customers and industry professionals winning several accolades and awards to become the staple of the Galeon lineup, proving it belongs in the upper echelon of luxury crafts.

The exterior line follows the design trend set by the rest of the range with its large hull windows and panels brightening the whole interior. The top deck is fitted with a double helm station and a sundeck up front, with seating and a wet bar occupying rest of the space. The carbon hardtop bimini is an optional extra and will grant respite from the harsh midday sun. The main deck offers a large cockpit area which can be extended thanks to the unique Beach Mode, with the drop-down sides increasing the usable width to six meters. Slide the glass doors away to open up the bar port side and extra seating opposite the kitchen area.

Two distinct cockpit options available are the 360 degree rotating sofa with a garage down below or the more conventional seating with a crew cabin and bathroom - a perfect charter option for extra privacy on board. Guest can take advantage of the bow seating area with back support, which can be automatically transformed into a sundeck - amazing. The bright interior offers two unique spaces, with the dining and leisure area moved next to the helm. A large kitchen, complete with a full-sized fridge will allow to serve refreshments both inside and out and is sure to be the center of attention.

Down below, six passengers will find accommodation in three cabins with the master located midship and fitted with an en suite bathroom. The VIP quarters are moved to the bow while the twin guest cabin occupies the starboard side. A variety of interior designs offer incredible customization options while the level of performance will depend on the selected engines and propulsion system with IPS, Z-drives and shafts being available.

The 500 FLY is definitely the segment leader with its incredible innovations, amazing onboard space and highly customizable interior and engine options.

One of the most stunning and innovative models in recent memory, a four time „Yacht of the Year” winner and absolute bestseller. The 500 quite simply might be the best this segment has to offer.
